Quick Answers

Circumstance	Paid leave
Death of immediate family member	5 workdays
Death of extended family member or person in a close personal relationship	2 workdays
Serious illness or end-of-life need involving immediate family	Up to 3 workdays of compassionate leave
Pregnancy loss experienced by employee or spouse/domestic partner	Up to 5 workdays under this policy; Parental Leave may provide up to 10 workdays total
Additional time	Up to 10 unpaid workdays may be approved; PTO may also be requested.

Key rule: Documentation is not normally required. A manager should not ask for a death certificate, diagnosis, or proof of relationship unless People Operations identifies a specific administrative need.

1. Purpose and Eligibility

Bereavement and compassionate leave provides time to grieve, attend services, support family, make arrangements, travel, address estate or cultural responsibilities, and respond to a serious family illness. It is available from the first day of employment to regular employees. Temporary workers and interns should contact People Operations because program terms may differ.

Part-time employees receive the same number of days based on their normal scheduled hours. A day means the employee's scheduled workday.

2. Covered Relationships

2.1 Immediate Family

Immediate family includes a spouse, domestic partner, child, stepchild, foster child, parent, stepparent, legal guardian, sibling, grandparent, grandchild, and equivalent in-law relationship. It also includes a person who stood in a parental role to the employee or for whom the employee stands in a parental role.

2.2 Extended Family and Close Personal Relationship

Extended family includes an aunt, uncle, niece, nephew, cousin, and other family relationship not listed as immediate. A close personal relationship may include a chosen-family member, close friend, former guardian, or another person whose loss has a significant impact. The employee's good-faith identification of the relationship is normally sufficient.

3. Immediate Family Bereavement

An employee receives 5 paid workdays for the death of an immediate family member. The days do not need to be consecutive and may be used within 6 months of the death for a funeral, memorial, cultural observance, travel, estate matter, grief, or family support.

The manager may approve a later use when a service, inquest, estate proceeding, or family event occurs after 6 months. People Operations should be consulted when the requested timing is disputed.

4. Extended Family and Close Relationship

An employee receives 2 paid workdays for the death of an extended family member or person in a close personal relationship. A manager may approve use in separate days when that better supports the employee's needs.

5. Pregnancy Loss and Death of a Child

An employee receives up to 5 paid workdays under this policy for miscarriage, stillbirth, or another pregnancy loss experienced by the employee or the employee's spouse or domestic partner. The Parental Leave Policy may provide up to 10 paid workdays in total; the benefits coordinate and do not create duplicate pay for the same day.

The death of a child, including a stillbirth where the child is recognized under the family's circumstances, is treated as immediate-family bereavement. People Operations will explain the most supportive combination of parental, bereavement, Sick Leave, disability, and other available time.

6. Compassionate Leave for Serious Illness

An employee may receive up to 3 paid workdays when an immediate family member has a life-threatening illness, enters hospice, requires end-of-life support, or experiences a comparable critical event. Compassionate leave may be used continuously or intermittently.

This benefit is not a substitute for a longer family-care or protected leave. Contact People Operations if the need continues.

7. Additional Time

Up to 10 unpaid workdays may be approved after paid bereavement or compassionate leave based on the employee's need and reasonable operational planning. The employee may request available PTO instead of unpaid time. Sick Leave may be used when the employee is unable to work because of a health condition, including a mental-health condition.

Travel distance alone does not create additional paid days, but managers should consider flexible scheduling, remote work, PTO, or unpaid leave for significant travel.

8. Request Process

Notify the manager as soon as reasonably possible. Provide the expected dates, whether the request is bereavement or compassionate leave, and urgent coverage information. The employee is not required to identify the precise family relationship in a team message.

Submit the Leave Request Form when practicable. People Operations may enter the leave on the employee's behalf during an emergency. Approval should be prompt and compassionate; managers should not delay time away while waiting for a form.

9. Pay and Benefits

Paid leave is paid at the employee's regular base rate for scheduled hours. It excludes overtime, commissions, bonuses, premiums, and allowances unless a written plan states otherwise. Benefits and normal PTO accrual continue during paid bereavement and compassionate leave.

10. Cultural and Religious Practices

BluePeak recognizes that grief and memorial practices vary. Employees may request flexibility for wakes, funerals, shiva, prayer, repatriation, anniversaries, cultural ceremonies, or other observances. Religious accommodation may provide additional schedule adjustments.

11. Privacy and Manager Conduct

Managers should express support, confirm immediate work coverage, protect the employee's privacy, and avoid pressing for details. The employee decides what information may be shared with the team. Managers should offer resources without requiring the employee to use them.

12. Support Resources

The Employee Assistance Program provides 8 confidential counseling sessions per issue per year and 24-hour crisis support. Contact the EAP at +1 800 555 0278 in the United States or +353 1 555 0260 in Ireland, or access it through the Employee Wellness Program page.

People Operations can also coordinate workload, phased return, accommodation, mental-health leave, travel assistance, and benefit questions.

13. Frequently Asked Questions

13.1 How many days do I receive if my parent dies?

Five paid workdays because a parent is immediate family.

13.2 Do the days have to be consecutive?

No. They may be used separately within 6 months, subject to reasonable notice.

13.3 Is a close friend covered?

Yes. A person in a close personal relationship qualifies for 2 paid workdays.

13.4 Can I use compassionate leave for my spouse's serious illness?

Yes, up to 3 paid workdays. A longer family-care or protected leave may also apply.

13.5 Will I be asked for proof?

Normally no. People Operations may request limited information only when a specific administrative need exists.

90. Administration, Exceptions, and Questions

BluePeak administers Bereavement and Compassionate Leave consistently with the employee's work location, employment classification, written employment terms, and applicable law. A statutory or contractual entitlement that is more generous than this document will apply to the extent required. A manager may not waive a legal requirement, create a new benefit, or promise an exception without written approval from the document owner.

Employees should raise questions before relying on an informal interpretation. Contact people@bluepeaktech.com through Outlook or the People Help channel in Microsoft Teams. Payroll, Legal, Information Security, or a site leader will be consulted when the question involves tax, wage-and-hour, privacy, immigration, safety, or local-law considerations.

Approved exceptions must identify the employee, the policy provision, the business reason, the approving authority, the start and end date, and any conditions. Exceptions are stored with the employee or transaction record and do not establish a precedent for other employees.
