Quick Answers

Question	Current rule
Who may receive a card?	An employee with recurring approved business need, manager and budget-owner support, and completed training.
May a card be used personally and repaid later?	No. Personal use is prohibited, even when accidental repayment is intended.
When is reconciliation due?	Within five business days after the monthly statement closes, or sooner if the expense platform requires.
What if the card is lost or compromised?	Lock it in the card app if safe, call the issuer immediately, then notify Finance and Security.
Are cash advances allowed?	No, unless Finance activates a limited travel advance for an approved location or emergency.
May another employee borrow the card?	No. A card is assigned to one cardholder and may not be shared.
What receipt threshold applies?	The Expense Reimbursement Policy applies; certain categories require a receipt at any amount.

The card is BluePeak property: It is a payment tool, not an increase in compensation or a personal line of credit. The cardholder is accountable for every transaction posted to the account.

1. Purpose and Scope

This policy governs physical and virtual corporate cards issued in BluePeak's name, including travel cards, purchasing cards, department cards, and approved single-use cards. It applies to cardholders, approvers, delegates, budget owners, and administrators.

The Expense Reimbursement Policy controls documentation and business-purpose requirements. The Travel Policy controls travel choices. Procurement controls contracts, supplier onboarding, and purchase orders. A card must not be used to bypass those controls.

2. Eligibility and Issuance

A card may be issued when recurring business travel, field activity, purchasing responsibility, event support, or another documented need makes it efficient. The request requires:

- 1 employee and manager identification;
- 1 business justification and expected spend categories;
- 1 default department, cost center, and project coding;
- 1 proposed single-transaction and monthly limits;
- 1 budget-owner approval;
- 1 Finance or Procurement approval; and
- 1 completion of cardholder training and acknowledgment.

Finance sets limits based on need and risk, not title alone. Standard limits may be reduced or temporarily increased for a documented event or trip. A temporary increase expires automatically.

A department or shared card requires a named custodian, approved checkout process, and transaction-level user identification. Card numbers may not be stored in an unapproved spreadsheet, browser profile, or shared note.

3. Permitted Use

The card may be used only for authorized BluePeak business, including compliant travel, approved supplies, approved subscriptions, event costs, low-dollar purchases, and other categories assigned to the card profile.

Before purchase, the cardholder must verify budget, business purpose, approval, supplier legitimacy, and whether Procurement or a purchase order is required. Splitting one purchase into smaller charges to avoid a limit or approval threshold is prohibited.

4. Prohibited Transactions

Unless a written exception from Finance and Legal applies, the card may not be used for:

- 1 personal purchases or personal portions of a mixed transaction;
- 1 cash advances, money orders, cryptocurrency, stored-value products, or gift cards;
- 1 payroll, contractor wages, severance, or other compensation;
- 1 charitable or political contributions;
- 1 fines, penalties, bail, or unlawful goods and services;
- 1 weapons, controlled substances, adult entertainment, or gambling;
- 1 personal technology, home furniture, or recurring software without IT or Procurement approval;
- 1 supplier contracts that require Legal or Procurement review;
- 1 purchases from an employee, family member, or related business without conflict approval;
- 1 intentional split transactions; or
- 1 any charge prohibited by the Code of Conduct or merchant-category controls.

Reasonable alcohol with an approved business meal may be charged only when lawful, moderate, and permitted by the Travel Policy and Code of Conduct.

5. Card Security and Custody

The cardholder must:

- 1 keep the physical card secure and not lend it;
- 1 protect the number, expiration date, PIN, and one-time codes;
- 1 use only approved digital wallets and merchant accounts;
- 1 avoid storing credentials on a shared or unmanaged device;
- 1 review transaction alerts promptly;
- 1 verify merchant websites and payment links; and
- 1 report phishing or suspicious contact.

A card number should not be sent in email or Teams. When a supplier requires a card by phone, the cardholder should initiate the call to a verified number and should not allow the supplier to retain the number without a recurring-payment need.

6. Lost, Stolen, or Compromised Card

When a card is missing or suspicious activity appears:

- 1 Lock or freeze the card in the issuer application when safe.
- 2 Call the issuer's 24-hour number immediately.

- 3 Notify expenses@bluepeaktech.com and security@bluepeaktech.com.
- 4 Identify known valid and disputed transactions.
- 5 Preserve phishing messages, receipts, and relevant details.

Do not wait for a manager or business hours. Finance will replace the card, file disputes, and update limits or merchant controls. The cardholder must cooperate with the investigation.

7. Receipts, Coding, and Reconciliation

Every transaction must be imported or entered in the expense platform with date, merchant, amount, business purpose, cost center, project or customer code when applicable, attendees for business meals, and required receipt.

The cardholder must complete reconciliation within five business days after statement close. A trained delegate may help attach receipts and coding, but the cardholder remains responsible for accuracy and must certify the report. The approver reviews within three business days after submission.

A cardholder on extended leave should reconcile before leave or arrange a delegate and manager review. Finance may suspend a card with unreconciled transactions, missing documentation, or repeated late reports.

8. Accidental Personal Charge

If an accidental personal charge occurs, the cardholder must notify Finance immediately, identify the charge as personal in the platform, and repay BluePeak through the approved method within five business days. The cardholder may not offset the amount against an expense owed by BluePeak.

Prompt disclosure does not make personal use acceptable, but it allows correction. Repeated, concealed, or intentional personal use may result in suspension, corrective action, and recovery.

9. Returns, Credits, and Disputes

A return or cancellation must be credited to the same corporate card; store credit or cash should not be accepted. The cardholder tracks expected credits and follows up when they do not post.

For an unfamiliar or incorrect charge, contact the merchant when safe and promptly open a dispute with the issuer within the required window. Marking a legitimate purchase as fraud to avoid obtaining a receipt or resolving a business disagreement is prohibited.

10. Recurring Charges and Subscriptions

Recurring software, data, media, membership, or service charges require an approved owner, business need, renewal date, and Procurement review where required. The cardholder must cancel unused services and transfer ownership before role change or separation.

A subscription should be purchased through an approved enterprise agreement when one exists. IT Security approval is required before a service stores, processes, or connects to BluePeak data.

11. Approver and Administrator Responsibilities

Approvers verify business purpose, budget, policy compliance, coding, receipts, and independence. They should reject vague descriptions such as “meeting” or “supplies” and may not delegate approval to the cardholder.

Finance administrators issue cards, configure merchant and spend controls, monitor alerts, manage disputes, perform risk-based audits, retain records, and provide training. Administrators do not approve the business purpose of their own transactions.

12. Monitoring, Audit, and Corrective Action

BluePeak monitors transactions for duplicates, prohibited merchants, split purchases, weekend or leave-period activity, unusual geography, missing receipts, repeated exceptions, and other risk indicators. Monitoring is performed for legitimate financial, security, and compliance purposes.

Finance may request original documentation, suspend or cancel a card, reduce limits, require retraining, recover improper charges, or refer suspected misconduct to Employee Relations, Legal, or Security. Intentional misuse may lead to discipline up to termination and referral to law enforcement.

13. Role Change, Leave, and Separation

A manager must notify Finance when a cardholder changes role, cost center, manager, leave status, or business need. Finance may adjust or suspend the card. Before separation, the cardholder must stop recurring charges, submit all transactions, return the physical card, and identify pending credits or disputes. Finance cancels access no later than the final day unless an earlier date is appropriate.

90. Administration, Exceptions, and Questions

BluePeak administers corporate card administration consistently with the employee's work location, employment classification, written employment terms, and applicable law. A statutory or contractual entitlement that is more generous than this document will apply to the extent required. A manager may not waive a legal requirement, create a new benefit, or promise an exception without written approval from the document owner.

Employees should raise questions before relying on an informal interpretation. Contact expenses@bluepeaktech.com through Outlook or the People Help channel in Microsoft Teams. Payroll, Legal, Information Security, or a site leader will be consulted when the question involves tax, wage-and-hour, privacy, immigration, safety, or local-law considerations.

Approved exceptions must identify the employee, the policy provision, the business reason, the approving authority, the start and end date, and any conditions. Exceptions are stored with the employee or transaction record and do not establish a precedent for other employees.
